Longmeadow Newsletter

Message from the Headteacher

Dear parents,

Hertfordshire County Council have produced an eSafety newsletter, which is available here - www.longmeadow.herts.sch.uk. The content of the newsletter is intended for parents.

The internet is a wonderful tool when used positively and safely, but there are many on-line issues facing young people and children today. Despite age restrictions, we know children use or see social media accounts, for example, on their own or friends' devices.

One of the best ways to keep your children safe on-line is to keep talking to them and reinforce the eSafety messages, as we do in school. Even if your children are quite young, you never know when they will come across something beyond their experience. If you know what to expect, you can help prepare and protect your children by teaching them how to stay safe.

If you are interested in further advice for parents, look on:
