RE: Diamond and Ruby Ancient Rome Day

Dear Parents/Carers,

Diamond and Ruby are starting their new topic on Monday, 17th January where the children will be learning all about Julius Caesar and The Roman Empire. We would like the children to come into school on Monday, 17th January dressed in togas or chitons! The children will be participating in a variety of activities designed to pique their interest in the topic. We are looking for Roman soldiers, Roman scientists, artists and philosophers and of course notoriously treacherous Roman senators.

Togas & chitons can be easily made using a white bed sheet using the instructions found here:

<https://www.wikihow.com/Make-a-Toga-out-of-a-Bedsheet>

It is recommended to wear a white t shirt and lighter coloured trousers or leggings underneath the toga as the weather is still chilly.

Thanks

Mr Barlow and Mrs Snelson
